Next Steps develops basic classical ballet technique and increases the range of ballet steps and the ways in which to execute them. The emphasis is still on your child's enjoyment without neglecting the importance of laying solid foundations of dance tuition.

While the class largely focuses on Classical ballet technique and building on the foundations laid by the previous levels to increase the repertoire of steps, the class is a recreational ballet class for those children wanting to experience a ballet class once a week. There is an element of creative movement within the program, to allow for freedom of expression and children's own ability to think creatively including developing their own choreographic skills.
